Newsletter December 2022

News

What an amazing year it has been for Time for Art. Here are the highlights:

December 2021: We were delighted to be awarded a National Lottery Community Fund grant which has enabled us to offer a full workshop programme to young people and adults from Children Heard and Seen, Be Free Young Carers, Oxford Asylum Welcome, Kintsugi Hope, Remix youth organisation and Ukrainian refugees.

Artists:

We are delighted to welcome David Rudge and Maggie Hollings as Time for Art artists. Both have years of experience of delivering art based activities to young people. Maggie ran our summer Ukrainian workshop, for recently arrived Ukrainians escaping the conflict in their country and David ran some amazing summer workshops with youngsters from Children Heard and Seen and Be Free Young Carers.

Time for Art workshops 2022

Time for Art offered summer workshops to youngsters supported by the Oxfordshire based charities Children Heard and Seen (CHAS) and Be Free Young Carers. The workshops gave children the chance to be creative and forge new friendships. Sarah Burrows, director of CHAS, wrote to us to thank us and “acknowledge our amazing support”.

Workshops with Kintsugi Hope and Remix

The Branch Trust in Chipping Norton aims to support local people by investing in and releasing potential, through nurture, training, connection & opportunity, in order to break cycles of poverty, isolation, violence & disadvantage once and for all. The Branch's groups, Kintsugi Hope and Remix offer well being advice and support to vulnerable adults and young people and their members have enjoyed regular Time for Art workshops this autumn.

Workshops with Oxford Asylum Welcome

Time for Art has been offering art workshops for 2 years to young people supported by Oxford Asylum Welcome. This charity offers support to unaccompanied children of different nationalities who are seeking asylum in the UK and escaping traumatic situations in their home countries. This year's art workshops have involved the young people enjoying portrait, cityscapes and abstract projects.

Future Projects

January 2023 onwards: Art workshops will continue on a monthly basis for young members of Oxford Asylum Welcome.

February 2023: A nature related art workshop will take place with children supported by the Kenyan charity Eden Thriving ([www.edenth thriving.org](http://www.edenth thriving.org)) in Naivasha, near Nairobi, Kenya. We will also continue to focus on further fundraising activities.
